THE ETERNAL PEASANT

Man over, ever over builds his world,
Only to see it into Chaos hurled;
Into the wilderness, with tongs of praise,
Come Toilers: building for the Troops to

The title 'POEMS' is rendered in a stylized, blocky font. The letters are contained within a rectangular border. Diagonal lines cross the frame from the top-left to the bottom-right and from the top-right to the bottom-left, creating a central diamond shape behind the text.

That Russian beer! and then Korea!
And withered leaves, and trouble,
While bloated warlords burp and sneer,
And peace? a busted bubble.

British Elections And Uncle Sam's Travels

by BEN B. HUNT

An American who loves England second only to his own country writes an open letter—in rhyme—to England and America.
Subheads his topics—reminisces—expostulates—speculates on evils resulting from socialistic political experiments.

Inspiration: Churchill and MacArthur.

Exasperation: Yalta, Tehran, Potsdam, Red China, Korea!
